HEALTH & HEARING opened its doors in 2012 with the mission to provide the people of Brisbane with an independent, professional, and trusted brand of hearing care.

We are proudly independent and work hard to find the best treatments from the full range of available solutions, including:

- tinnitus management
- rehabilitation
- counselling
- hearing aids from all leading manufacturers.

Soren Nielsen, the clinic founder, has over 25 years' experience in the hearing industry and, over this time, has worked for the world's largest hearing aid manufacturers. This experience, and his genuine desire to help people, enables him to help any patient with hearing difficulties.

Studies suggest that 30% of hearing aids don't get used once fitted, but actually end up packed away in drawers, because patients are not able to use these hearing aids effectively. We make it our mission to fit patients with highly effective hearing aids that actually get used. We believe that life is richer with good hearing.

The service we provide is vastly different from the larger businesses in the area, which are actually owned by hearing aid manufacturers. We test patients thoroughly to find the best hearing-aid for their condition and budget, our appointment lengths are generous, and we offer a follow up service that is second-to-none. This is particularly important with senior citizens who may have had trouble in the past with hearing aids.
